Gloom Routed By Mouth Organ. LRAIN. O.—Edward Cherney had one passion. It was his mouth organ. One day he got into a street car to go to Lorain. It was a dreary and wet day. The car was crowded with weary hungry workers. The air was stuffy, damp, miserable. All around there was gloom, grouchiness, discontent. He got out his mouth organ and began a tune of colorful jazz. Soon the sodden dead weight seemed to disappear. Silence gave way to a hum of conversation. Faces brightened, even a chuckle was heard. Gloom was routed.

City Salary Increases

Council, meeting on December 15 for the last regular session of the two-year term, will pass upon three proposed salary increases for city officials-Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, Auditor Wil liam M. McGraw and Municipal Court Bailiff Carmen D. Hissam.

Under an ordinance introduced Thursday night and side-tracked when the presiding officer ruled against a 4 to 3 vote for consideration of the proposal, the chied executive's annual stipened is to be restored to $1,800 from $1,200, to which it was slashed several months ago. However, the "cut" was not to become effective until January 1.

The compensation of the auditor is to be increased from $1,680 to $1,980, a boost of $25 a month, while the bailiff's pay, now $100 R month, is to be made $150.

Considered from all standpoints, none of the officials is overpaid under the present scale, although the proposed action on the mayor's salary is a reversal of the stand taken earlier in the year, when the economy measure was enacted. However, while the solons are prompted by the Christmas spirit they should include other city officials in the favored list. For instance, Solicitor Frank H. Hoover's $1,500 salary is small in comparison with his many duties, while Service-Safety Director John W. Moome certainly earns the $1,800 he receives annually.

Don't make fish of one and fowl of another, councilmen.

Cigarets In China

China is not doing her duty by American cigarets.

Buring the first nine menths of last year China bought 5,- able dipsomeniac mothers moving nized today. With the exception of a 380,000,000 cigarets from An erican manufacturers. During the about night clubs in an alcoholic blue church almost every building has same period this year she has bought only 3,549,000,000. That is a drop of 26 per cent.

Maybe we Americans should get busy and smoke more, to make up China's deficit.

Or maybe we should send some battle cruisers over there and up freedom to act as chaperones in shoot up Chinese seaports and river cities, till the Chinks take will develop a tragic climax. their full quota of cigarets again. That's the way the powers have been in the habit of handling China.

Chicago and Canada.

The report of Special Master Hughes, for the United States su- and private sanitarium records show. preme court, in the Chicago water diversion case, concerns Canada Some are known to consume as much as well as the United States. Canada owns as much of the diverted And that to high strung women water as the States do, and has objected as strenuously to losing it as have Chicago's neighbors at home.

Many Canadians have felt that Canada's water rights were! flouted in the Hughes report. Many Americans have felt that by ignoring the Canadian interest involved, the United States was so announced with, "Court is adjourned." antagonizing that country as to lose Canadian co-operation in building the desired Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway to the sea. These fears seem unfounded on both sides.

Canada was not a party to the suit in question. The suit merely | sleep. "Oh, I get to bed early enough," concerned whatever American authority there might be for Chicago water diversion. That authority, Mr. Hughes holds, is vested in congress, and has been delegated to the secretary of war, who issued the permit under which Chicago is now drawing water from the lakes for her drainage canal. The secretary of war might revoke that permit. Or congress might order it revoked. Congress can do anything it likes in the matter, if the supreme court adopts the Hughes report as its own decision.

That is to say, congress can go as far as our government's jurisdiction permits. But the jurisdiction of the United States over the waters of the Great Lakes, which are international, is finally determined by international law.

There are treaties with Canada affecting the right of either country to abstract water in which the other possesses a right. Canada can object to Chicago diversion just as we could object if Canada were emptying Lakes Michigan, Huron and Erie by a canal from Georgian Bay into Lake Ontarie.

It may take a new treaty to settle the question, if Chicago diversion continues. Or it may take a court of arbitration. In any event, there need be no fear that justice will not be done to Canada

The corporation income tax rate should be reduced from 131 per cent to not more than 10 per cent, with the reduction applicable to net income of 1927.

The remaining war excise taxes lev ed on particular businesses should be repealed. The big item in this Federal assessment is the levy that is made on purchases of automotive vehicles.

In the Hudson high-compression design, the raw gas enters through intake valve and falls directly on exhaust valve. The hot exhaust valve is thus a hot spot which thoroughly vaporizes the gasoline, while the liquid tends to keep the valve cool. This makes a cold motor operate on regular gasoline with the map which other types seek through special fuels. Crankcase dilution is prevented and fuel once wasted is turned to useful power. And there is more power, greater economy and longer life.

Note the special combustion chamber offset from the cylinder bore and the location of the spark plug with relation to the cylinder and piston. Instead of the violet initial explosion taking place immediately above the piston, it occurs at the remotest part of the special chambers. piston, it occurs at the remotest part of the special chaber, which cushions its severity and greatly increases power. By the time the pressure reaches the piston, violent harshness and roughness is entirely absent a the Hudson gets away with the dash and smoothness a steam engine—and the desirable performance is accoplished with low-grade fuel.

This Leadership exclusive in High-Compression Performance

The almost universal trend to the high-compression motor only serves to emphasize the exclusive method, advantages and results achieved by the Hudson Super-Six in this development.

While conventional types depend upon special, costlier fuels to minimize roughness, the Hudson design uses any gasoline, delivering the extra power with the elastic smoothness of a steam engine.

Combined with the Super-Six principle this new invention makes Hudson the most powerful and economical car per pound weight in the world.

The extraordinary speed of Hudson getaway is but a single expression of the brilliant activity of the New Hudson Super-Six, which is carried on to every phase of performance. You see it in the rapidity with which it rolls into high speed; the effor less ease with which it sustains fast going; the long, reliable service through which it maintains its smooth and brilliant performance. This TUBE tube development used by ZENITH is the REAL identifying mark of an ALL-ELECTRIC RECEIVER

So-called "electric" sets using ordinary storage-battery tubes-such as CX-301A, or UX-201A—are simply battery sets CONVERTED for use on A. C. current

You wouldn't buy last year's auto disguised as this year's model—then why buy last year's Radio that is similarly disguised? You don't have to be a radio expert to tell the difference. Simply compare the average "so-called" electric set with a Zenith ALL Electric receiver. Contrast the former's use of storage-battery tubes and so-called storage battery elimmators with Zenith's exclusive use of the new A.C. tubes and its own Zenith-designed power unit. Zenith ALL-Electric receivers are years ahead because Zenith began making ALL-Electric receivers years ahead of anybody else - having long since perfected where others are still experimenting.

Screen Version of Novel Comes to Ceramic.

The screen version of one of the most popular romantic action novels in recent years, "Beau Geste," which was presented at $2 top price here several months ago, will return to the Ceramic theatre at popular prices Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. This thrilling story of romance, mystery and adventure in the French

Foreign Legion with the theme of the devotion of three brothers powerfully depicted, has been transferred to the screen by Paramount on a scale never surpassed by any previous production. For the filming of this novel, Director Herbert Brenon led an army of 2,000 men into the Great American the exterior scenes were made. The camp was built in a sand basin 30 miles from any habitation and the en-tire company worked straight through,

Brenon took his company to Burlingame, California—a 900 mile trip-for a few cranks of the camera. No obstacle was permitted to stand in the way of making it as fine as possible. The director was given the selection of any player in motion pictures. Months were spent in preparation and more months to filming. Hundreds of the West's finest riders were brought together as were 1,500 of the world's fastest horses and 50 camels.

The smallest part in the picture was filled with the same care that was given to casting the featured roles.

Ronald Colman plays the title part, hat of the eldest of three brothers who each leave home without telling the others, to enlist in the French For eign Legion under assumed names in order to shield each other from the blame for the theft of a famous sap-phire. Neil Hamilton and Ralph Forbes enact the other brothers.

The brave defense by 40 legion-naries of a lonely fort in the Sahara when it is attacked by countless hordes of mounted desert warriors, Touaregs, brings the story to its climax. It also causes Noah Beery, as the brutal adjutant, "the cruelest beast and bravest soldier" in the Legion, to reach the pinnacle of his notable screen career. Other prominent players in Senators-elect Must be Seated or Denied Oaths.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3-The sev entieth congress today faced the possioility of running into a paralyzing leadlock as soon as it convenes, due to the pending battle to bar Senatorselect Frank L. Smith, of Illinois, and William S. Vare, of Pennsylvania, from the senate.

The drive to bar Smith and Vare gained new significance when the senate's parliamentary experts decided hat no other business can be transacted until both cases are settled. nless the senate itself should rule therwise, it was said, both Smith and Vare must be seated or denied their oaths of office before congress can begin to function.

The prospective deadlock, it was pointed out, might even prevent President Coolidge delivering his annual message to congress next Tuesday Under congressional rules, it was ex plained, both house and senate must adopt a resolution inviting the president to speak. If the Smith or Vare forces raised an objection, it was added, this resolution could not be acted upon by the senate and the president therefore could not address settled.

dering if the prohibition speech was wise political move in view of the leading contenders for the Demo cratic presidential nomination.

On the other side of the political ence, the Republican leaders were trying to figure out why the governor picked this particular time to make such a vigorous attack on prohibition Breaking a silence on prohibition of more than a year's standing, the governor told the League of Women voters that he favored the enforcement, of all laws, but that he felt a person had the right to oppose any law or any part of the legislation to which he did not subscribe. "One of the fundamental rights of citizenship is the right to organize, to oppose any law or any part of the legislation with which one is not in harmony," the governor declared. "In all my years of public service I always have taken an oath of office to sustain the legislation, and there are parts of it that I hate. I prom ised to sustain it and I will sustain it but I did not give up the right to op pose the parts I do not like."

Local Question, He Says. Not since 1923, when he signed a bill repealing the state prohibition enforce-For months members of council and | ment law, has Governor Smith made such a vigorous attack on state prohibition enforcement.

"Enforcement of the Volstead act is not a state question; it is a local was willing to rebuild the tracks if question," the governor told the

"You have all the law you need, with as much force as if it were on the statute books of the state."

The governor, it is believed, opened fire on prohibition because the League of Women Voters is planning to ask the next New York state legislature to pass a prohibition enforcement act. Referring to the prohibition conference called three years ago in Washington by President Coolidge, the gov ernor said: "Although others at the conference spoke very loudly and very vigorously, there were only two of the many governors who were there that carried out the one definite suggestion made for the enforcement of the Volstead act, and I was one of them. It was agreed at the Washington conference that the governors of the various state should call a state prohibition enforcement conference. I was one of the two governors who carried out that agreement."

Opposition to Volstead Law. The governor told the women he had heard much about open opposition to the Volstead law.

"What's wrong with that?" he ask-"Is there any reason why the opposition should not organize? Is there any question about the solidity, the force, and the effectiveness of the organization on the other side of the question when, by their own announcement, they say they will need $5,000, 000 for their work in the next five years?"

Getting back to state prohibition enforcement, the governor declared dry law violators have been punished more severely in New York state since the state law was repealed than when it was on the statute books. He said that of the 1.130 arrests for prohibition violation, 318 were discharged when the state had its own enforcement law. Of the 2,562 arrests since the state law was repealed, only 84 have been discharged, he asserts. Then he told the women:

GENERAL & ELECTRIC Refrigerator

The whole family's gift for this year—and many more!

TRULY this is a gift that keeps on giving. It means better living, better health. It means comforts, conveniences and real economies—all the year round.

Fresher milk for baby. New desserts that are so simple to prepare and that make those little parties so successful. Plenty of sparkling, clear-blue ice-made from the same pure water you drink. Fewer trips to market. Plenty of room to store food—and just the right temperature to keep it in prime condition. No food spoilage. Lower running cost than the cost of ice.

The General Electric Refrigerator is the one refrigerator that never needs oiling. That has no exposed moving parts. That is extremely quiet and unusually roomy. All in all, it's a Christmas gift that every home should have! Why not come in today and see the various models?

Halfway through breakfast Bob espied an envelope on his tray. It was addressed in the fine, small Peter Borden. His handwriting of Peter Borden. His lips twisted into a sneer as he handled it. It was a large envelope quite full. And finally, with a ges-ture of disgust, the young man

ROBERT BURNS.

Ask Sandy MacSomething-or-other who was the greatest Scotchman and he will not say Carlyle or John Knox. He will tell you Robert Burns. And he will be right. Carlyle himself called Burns "the greatest Scotchman who ever lived." Burns was far more than a singer of songs. He was more a never to-be-forgotten poet Burns was the greatest democrat of modern times. He did more than any other man of his century that came after him to break down the arrogance of aristocracy and despotism. He exalted the common man. He gave an everlasting touch of glory to the commonplace.

AN atlas is a deceiving thing.

The map-makers like to give the public the worth of its money, so they sketch in a lot of mountains and rivers that they've no more real idea of than Columbus had of Pike's Peak and the headwaters of the Wabash, when he sighted Cat Island.

Generally they leave the interior of the Antarctic continent and, if they're modest, Greenland, to the imagination.

It isn't all they don't know, by a

FOR instance, Labrador!

In front of me I have a map showing nearly two dozen big rivers, depicted in all their meanderings and deviations, and with several of their tributaries, extending clear into the very heart of that peninsula, plus a bunch of inland lakes and a mountain chain or hills, at any rate.

You'd think, to look at it, that any body could drive an automobile, by that map, from Hudson bay to the Strait of Belle Isle, but heaven help the chap who tried it—so they say at at the National Geographic society.

Except for the coast line, the well-known "terra incognita" hasn't anything on Labrador, according to the

BESIDES Labrador, about an additional 20 per cent of British North America and a sizable chunk of Alask., classified by the Geographic so-ciety as absolutely "unexplored," one of the society's recent bulletins refers to "many square miles . . . in South America" which "the white man has yet to penetrate."

Considering that you could lose the British Isle in any one of a half dozen of these spots, "many square miles" sounds like a moderate way of express

THE airplane will do very well to give a new country the "once over," as the National Geographic folks recognize, but the "once over" and "exploration" are two quite different things, as they see it.

To illustrate: New Guinea is one of the blindest spots in the world today, and rather recently a plant was used to take a squint at the interior of it. The Dr. George B. Cutten, president of flyers saw signs of a settlement all
